Why we Should Preserve Historic Places

(includes Campo Bello facts)

By Dylan Thiel

Do you like hisoric places? I do, so people who don't... I don't think they care. I want to keep these amazingly cool places safe because they explain History. There are so many of them. So many to protect. But I believe at least one should, It's named "Campo Bello".

It has a very good history such as, it was desinged in 1935! 39 years before oro valley! It's owned by Toney and Mable Hardy. But was formily part of a homestead, which was pattened by Wylie Rudasill.

Anouther fact is It has never been changed. But the adding of buildings, Which the earlest house was made in 1948 when it was a seperate area. It stanes today! COOL, right? any way It looks like a airplane seat belt. 4 diangnal roads, and a big curcular middle.

One more fact is, it was soppposed to be different. It was meant to have sacre cummunity center in the middle. plus, The roads were never paved either. because they wasted so much money on the land, they

why we Should Preserve Historic Places (includes Campo Bello facts)

Couldn't afford it. That means it's worth alot. after all; its 160 acres of land.

So, I stand on my point. We Should preserve these places, because we learn about history the more we preserve. I taght you were to start: Then move on. Our historys waiting. Don't keep history waiting..... ..... It's waiting to be onlocked, quickly.

Sources on information:

Tucson.com AZ Daily Star 22 oct 2009, https://www.orovalleyaz.gov/parks and rec/historic-preservation-culture-resorces/historic-architecure, and https://www.orovalleyaz.gov/sites/default/files/media/files/parks-and-recration/page/2015/rock-art-ranch-residance-cultral-resources-hist-arch-p97-119.pdf