Popular Series Returns at Oro Valley Public Library

Great Decisions examines foreign policy, world affairs

ORO VALLEY, ARIZ (Jan. 22, 2007) — The Oro Valley Public Library will once again present “Great Decisions,” a popular weekly discussion group focusing on foreign policy and world affairs, beginning Feb. 12.

Sponsored by the Foreign Policy Association, the eight-week series runs through April 3 from 4 – 6 p.m. To keep the program small, participants may choose to attend either Tuesday or Thursday night sessions. Although the program is free, there is a $15 fee for those who wish to have their own copy of the booklets used in the program. Registration is required and space is limited. Call Cat Strong or Barbara Dryer at 229-5300 to make your reservations.

The topics for 2008 include: Iraq: End Game, The EU at 50, Talking to our Enemies, Russia, US Defense & Security Policy, Latin America Shift to the Left, US-China Trade Policy and Private Philanthropy. Participants will read the topic for each week and come prepared for a relaxed and informative exchange of ideas. Bill Adler, a local citizen in Oro Valley, will moderate discussions.
