University of Arizona: Oro Valley

On September 28, University of Arizona President Ann Weaver Hart announced that Oro Valley would be the new home for the UA's Doctor of Veterinary Medicine (DVM) degree program. The campus will also support a new UA initiative tied to One Health, a worldwide effort to address disease threats to humans and animals simultaneously and improve the health for both populations.

Oro Valley has already become a hub for bioscience, with companies like Ventana-Roche, Sanofi and LCMS. The University of Arizona Oro Valley and the One Health movement will strengthen that reputation and advance us toward our goal of becoming a global hub for the intersection of bioscience and information technology.

Your Voice, Our Future ready for your review

Over the last two years, community members have come together to share their vision for the future of Oro Valley. Now, the Your Voice, Our Future plan draft is out! The “Recommended Draft” (90% Completion) reflects the community’s Vision and Guiding Principles, valuable work by the Your Voice committees of residents, and countless comments from the community.

Check out YourVoiceOV.com for the latest project news, including public meetings and announcements. You can also view the draft plan and share your comments.

Oro Valley Water Utility

Check out the fall Water Ways newsletter and lower your outdoor water use while lower temperatures move in. Don’t forget to cover those pipes and learn more about our water quality monitoring program.

Business Spotlight: Giovanni’s Gelato Café

By Dave Perry, President/
CEO of the Greater Oro Valley Chamber of Commerce

Giovanni’s Gelato Café
10110 N. Oracle Road
www.Giovanisgelatocafe.com

Giovanni Rizza is a native of Sicily who emigrated to America in 1967. He’s brought a taste of Italy—in the form of brilliantly-flavored gelato, not to mention modernist Italian design and display—to Oro Valley. Giovanni and his wife Agnieszla have opened Giovanni’s Gelato Café on Oracle Road.

Agnes is the artist, producing 32 flavors of gelato beaming from an expensive, curved glass imported Italian case.

“She’s got the taste,” Giovanni said. “She’s got the passion.”

Guests love the gelato. “I gotta feeling it’s a little addictive,” Giovanni said. “It’s the best. I think so.”

There’s Italian espresso and cappuccino, too.
